

Kick-starting AI initiatives in a community of practice: a toolbox developed with 9 companies

Sebastian Piest, University of Twente

Marcel Wouterse, Deltago

This session highlights the results and lessons learned from the community of practice for data science and AI. Extending the NL AI coalition awareness course for logistics, 9 companies in transport, logistics and IT together started concrete data science and AI projects and collaboratively developed a toolbox. Join this session if you're interested how to effectively kick-start data science and AI initiatives.
